Annex A: Trail Runs Standard Operating Procedures

Introduction

Trail Runs are an integral part of the stated purpose for Desert Wranglers. As such, a brief introduction as to how runs are conducted is appropriate. It is important to note that there is inherent danger in going off road. To limit that danger, please ensure every member of a participating Jeep who goes off road is in good health and has an ample supply of food and water to take them through at least one day. If a mechanical problem exists, it may take several hours to get those members to safety. All Jeeps must be in good working order before going off road.

Trail Run Sign Up

All sanctioned trail runs will be posted on the club site by the Trail Leader. Any active member in good standing may RSVP for any run. Members are advised to read the description and ensure that their equipment and experience level is adequate for the run that they are signing up for. If the list fills up quickly and you are on the wait list there is still a good chance that you will be allowed to attend. If you are not able to attend, please cancel your RSVP at least two days prior to departure so as to allow another member to take your place.

Trail Run Conduct

Check the Meetup website for time and place to meet to begin the run. Plan to arrive in time to fuel up and take care of any other tasks in time to be available for the brief at the time posted. All our runs have a designated Meetup spot. It is recommended that all Jeeps going on a Trail Run be topped off with fuel prior to beginning the run. Late arrivals may be prohibited from joining the run. Repeated no-shows and late arrivals may result in dismissal from the Club.

At the announced time the Trail Leader will take roll and begin his trail brief. The brief will include the following elements:

1. The Route to be followed
2. Air Up and Air Down locations
3. Observance of all applicable laws and regulations
4. Safety considerations
5. Equipment Requirements

Non-Profit By-Laws
Of
Desert Wranglers Jeep Club
June 2022

6. Group radio communication (assigned Channel, trail position for those without CB's; or GMRS). If GMRS, Trail Leaders should arrange extra handhelds as loaners.
7. Vehicle spacing and technique for keeping the group together
8. Key member assignments (Tail and Mid Gunner, others if required)
9. Any other items of concern

It is imperative that all drivers and passengers sign a liability release form during these driver meetings, and should include their cell phone numbers, emergency contact, and a simple visual description of their vehicle (example, gray jeep with roof rack).

The primary objectives for all trail runs are:

1. Begin and end the run together.
2. Conduct the run safely.
3. Provide an opportunity for members to enjoy the scenery, history and natural beauty that Southern Nevada has to offer.
4. Develop or improve off road driving techniques
5. Learn something new
6. Have fun

To that end, it is important that all the Jeeps in a sanctioned trail run stay together.

Leaving the route to explore during a trail run is not permitted. It is most important that every person always keep the Jeep behind them in sight in order to ensure that the group does not become too spread out. If a Jeep does encounter a mechanical problem, all the members of that trail run need to be prepared to assist.
